A dedicated website for the TBM 850

- All about the Very Fast turboprop TBM 850 with just one click

Sun'n fun, Lakeland, FL, 18 April, 2007: EADS Socata announces today the launch of a TBM 850 dedicated website for prospects and customers.

With a fresh appearance and up-to-date functionality, this website will offer direct links to all content and resources related to the TBM 850 that were available on-line but at different website addresses, while providing the latest technical and commercial information about the TBM 850 and its customer support.

The new website can be viewed at www.tbm850.com

"This new website concentrates information on our new TBM 850 aircraft," said Nicolas Chabbert, Vice-President Sales and Marketing of EADS Socata. "We felt it was important not only to update our communication, but to provide real time access to our customers and prospective buyers."

EADS Socata is one of the world's leading general aviation manufacturers, with more than 17,000 aircraft built since its creation as Morane-Saulnier in 1911. Current products include the TBM family of high-speed turboprops, TB GT piston aircraft, aerostructures for Airbus civil airliners, the A400M military transporter, Dassault Falcon jets, Eurocopter helicopters and Embraer regional jets. EADS Socata is expanding its customer service activities, to support its growing fleet of TBM and offer its light aviation expertise for aircraft below 5.7 tons through avionics modernization, maintenance, repair and overall package offers. Headquartered in Tarbes, France, with North American operations in Pembroke Pines, Florida, EADS Socata is a wholly owned subsidiary of EADS – a global leader in aerospace, defence and related services. EADS is a global leader in aerospace, defence and related services. In 2006, EADS generated revenues of € 39.4 billion and employs a workforce of about 116,800.
